Your Rights

Subject to the relevant legislative provisions, you have the following data protection rights:

You have the right to obtain confirmation as to whether or not your personal data are being processed and, where this is the case, access to the personal data. You also have the right to ask us for a copy of your personal data.

- The right to rectification

You have the right to ask us to rectify personal data about you that you think are inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete data you think are incomplete. This right always applies.

- The right to erasure

This is also known as 'the right to be forgotten' and, in simple terms, enables you to request the deletion or removal of your data where there's no compelling reason for us to keep using the data. This is not a general right to erasure; there are exceptions, e.g. if we have a legal obligation to keep your data.

- The right to restriction of processing

You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data under certain circumstances.

- The right to data portability

This right only applies to personal data you have given us. You have the right to ask that we transfer the data you gave us to another organisation or give the data to you.

- The right to withdraw consent

Where you have provided us with consent to process your personal data, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. This will not affect the lawfulness of the processing that has been carried out based on your consent prior to the withdrawal.

- The right to object

When we process your personal data for purposes of pursuing our legitimate interests, you have the right to object to such processing at any time. If you object, we will stop the processing unless we have strong and legitimate reasons to continue using your data.

- The right to lodge a complaint

If you have concerns about the way we handle or process your personal data, please contact our Privacy Office (contact details below) who will investigate the matter and report back to you.
